Discover noble silence of manors and castles

One of the trademarks of Gauja National Park is its noble castles and manors. The iconic Turaida Castle, built in the 13th century, stands as a well-preserved testament to medieval architecture, while the Sigulda Castle complex presents a fascinating blend of medieval and 19th-century structures. Manor houses like Ungurmuiža and Krimulda Manor showcase the elegance of Baroque and Classicist styles, surrounded by scenic landscapes. These historical landmarks, nestled in the heart of the Gauja Valley, invite visitors to explore the region's past and enjoy its natural beauty.
